

BUILT for ADVENTURE

Marvellously constructed and incredibly capable, this Australian built camper trailer ticks all the boxes

Patriot Campers pride themselves on providing an all-inclusive experience with every camper trailer they manufacture. Designed to combine a comprehensive mix of comfortable accommodation and functional amenities, the X1 is a true off-road tourer that's been built strong and smart to follow faithfully wherever your 4WD aims to lead it. From its well-equipped kitchen, with an impressive amount of bench space and variety of durable appliances, to the high-quality, easy to set up tent from Hannibal Safari Equipment; the X1 is a compact, camper trailer built for luxury adventuring. Compact but complete, comfort abounds inside and all around the X1 making it a great fit all types of campers. From novice to pro, for families and couples alike, Patriot delivers a model that's been proudly built in Australia for you to proudly travel the country in.

For structural rigidity and to keep your X1 safe from sea salt and the damaging effects of rust and corrosion, the trailer's body is constructed entirely of durable, marine grade aluminium. Structurally riveting interlocking sections of laser cut aluminium to the hot-dipped chassis with a monocoque design technique enhances the trailer's strength while keeping its weight down. This approach is much like building a tank out of armour as opposed to later attaching armour to a tank's existing frame.

A genuinely unique and positively brilliant inclusion on the X1 is the two mesh boxes at the rear of the trailer. Perfect for wet storage or muddy boots, these purpose-built boxes lock securely so damp or soiled items can be isolated from the rest of your gear but still stored safely when you're moving. The vented design on the doors and walls of these boxes keep them well ventilated so it's easy to dry off or air out any items inside.

Access to your 120amp Fullriver battery via the Redarc battery management system is easy and secure. Built to fit flush into its own dedicated space on the other side of the fold-down kitchen, your Redarc is a complete battery charging and maintenance solution. In addition to functioning as an AC-DC/DC-DC battery charger, the Redarc also works as a battery monitor, start battery isolator and maximum power point tracking device for any solar panels you may decide to add on down the road. On top of all this, the Redarc boasts whisper quiet operation so you can run it at your leisure without having to worry about the noise disrupting your, or your neighbours', bush adventures.

Patriot has teamed with the experts at Hannibal Safari Equipment to provide a truly classic roof top tent for the X1 package. Built from Dynaproofed 380gsm Australian-made ripstop canvas, all seems are waterproofed, double-stitched and edged with binding so your tent is strong but still able to breathe. Easy to set up and convenient to travel with, the tent's spacious hinging allows for your bedding to remain in the tent while mobile and external tie-down straps on the roof of the trailer help prevent the tent from ballooning while driving; lowering wind resistance and ultimately saving fuel.

Patriot Campers is serious about going off-road, so to prove it, they've equipped the X1 with black, steel wheels and massive 33in mud-terrain tyres from Federal. Aggressive sidewall lugs and extra sidewall rubber give you more grip on the go while TriGard Plus construction gives you three full nylon carcass plies plus an additional nylon sidewall ply that works with the tyres' unique rubber compound to hug the road and resist punctures and bruising.

The X1's clever kitchen design succeeds at providing heaps of functional workspace as well as offering an ergonomic L-shaped design that helps make food preparation and accessing areas like the included pull-out pantry and cutlery drawer simple. A two burner stainless steel cooktop and griller combination connects to your LPG supply to deliver low pressure power that translates into faster cooking times. This dynamic tailgate kitchen set-up also features a stainless steel sink and dedicated fridge slide that includes a portable 60L fridge/freezer combination from ARB.

The Cruisemaster coil suspension system from Vehicle Components delivers both economical load protection and superior handling even under the most stressful bush conditions. The system is aided by twin shock absorbers that work to eliminate vibration, in turn helping to significantly extend the life of your trailer by preventing shock-related damage and fatigue. By limiting suspension movement, your shock absorbers enable you to traverse rough ground in the X1 as effortlessly as you would travel on the bitumen.
